WKSU's M.L. Schultze Joins TomTod Ideas Board

Canton, OH - March 6, 2013 - M.L. Schultze, a Reporter/Producer for WKSU as well as their Web Editor, is the latest board member to sign on with TomTod Ideas. She will begin attending board meetings and be in contact with TomTod's Executive Dreamer, Joel Daniel Harris, to offer her extensive experience, knowledge and expertise to TomTod.

Schultze currently works at WKSU, a non-profit radio station affiliated with National Public Radio (NPR), Public Radio International (PRI) and the Associated Press (AP). She has been on staff there since July of 2007 after 25 years at The Canton Repository where she was a managing editor. During her time at The Repository, Schultze covered stories centered around schools, city government, crime, courts, politics and special projects.

"We are very excited to have Schultze as a part of our board," said TomTod Ideas Executive Dreamer, Joel Daniel Harris. "Her work and experience, particularly in NE Ohio, will bring valuable insight and direction to our board and staff."

empowering middle school students to launch absurd ideas that rebuild a broken world

Schultze is a native of Philadelphia, PA and graduated from Syracuse University with a degree in magazine journalism and political science in 1978. She is married to Rick Senften and lives in Canton, Ohio.

The WKSU newsroom was named the best in the state by the Society of Professional Journalism this year and has won numerous other awards for reporting, anchoring and features.

TomTod Ideas exists to empower middle school students to launch absurd ideas to rebuild a broken world. Learn more at www.tomtodideas.org and www.facebook.com/tomtodideas.
